Community Spotlight/ Member News

We have installed a museum-grade display cabinet at 189 Kent St W, Lindsay, featuring movable shelving, hangers, and adjustable track lighting. Our aim is to curate a rotating series of displays that reflect the Kawartha Lakes region, its past, present, or future, and to invite local organizations and creators to contribute designs and stories that highlight our community's spirit and heritage.

What we are asking from you

- If possible, help us promote the cabinet within your networks to potential exhibitors, artists, historians, or community groups.
- Encourage collaborations or individual presentations that fit within a rotation program (for example, monthly or quarterly), including content specifications, installation timelines, and any required permissions.
- Share ideas for thematic concepts or community stories that would resonate with a broad audience and draw visitors to the cabinet and surrounding areas.

What we provide

- A purpose-built, secure display space with museum-grade construction.
- Flexible presentation options: movable shelving, hangers, and adjustable track lighting to accommodate varying exhibit formats.
- Clear guidelines for exhibition rotation, installation, and removal, along with support for marketing and outreach.

Why this matters

- The cabinet offers a visible platform to celebrate Kawartha Lakes' unique history, present-day culture, and future aspirations.
- A rotating program can strengthen community ties, increase foot traffic, and create opportunities for partnerships across arts, business, and civic groups.

Next steps

- If you are open to it, I would love to schedule a brief call or meeting to discuss potential collaboration, preferred themes, and a practical rollout plan.
- We are happy to provide any additional information, including exhibit proposal templates, safety guidelines, and promotion timelines.

Thank you for considering this opportunity to spotlight our shared Kawartha Lakes story. I value your time and perspective, and I am hopeful we can collaborate to keep the cabinet dynamic and inviting into the future.

We're so excited to welcome Megan Northmore to Lindsay Osteopathy!

Megan is a graduate of the Canadian Academy of Osteopathy in Hamilton, Ontario, and is passionate about helping people move better, feel better, and get back to doing what they love through hands-on osteopathic care.

Beginning September 14, Megan will be accepting new patients and will have evening appointments available, perfect for those who can't make daytime appointments!

As she begins her career with Lindsay Osteopathy, Megan will be working closely alongside Gabriella Grima, receiving ongoing mentorship and collaborating on cases to continue refining her clinical skills. This allows us to maintain the high standard of care our patients know and trust while expanding access to osteopathic treatment.

If you've been thinking about booking an appointment, now is the perfect time! We can't wait for you to meet Megan and experience the compassionate, personalized care she'll bring to our clinic.

Now accepting new patients with evening availability starting September 14.
Welcome to the team, Megan!
